GLOBAL NEWSSTREAM PROVIDES access to the most influential and respected contemporary news resources from around the globe — from today’s news to backfiles dating back to the 1980s. This comprehensive contemporary news collection delivers superior access to current, full-text news sources including newspapers, newswires, news journals, television and radio transcripts, blogs, video, podcasts, and digital-only websites. There are no paywalls, and content for the most important sources loads by 8 AM U.S. Eastern time each day.

This “gold standard” contemporary news collection combines ProQuest’s U.S. Newsstream, Canadian Newsstream, and International Newsstream into one of the largest collections of news from the U.S., Canada, Europe, Africa, Asia, Latin America, and Australia.

May 30, 2020: SpaceX successfully launched two NASA astronauts (Doug Hurley and Bob Behnken) into orbit on a Crew Dragon spacecraft, marking the first crewed launch from American soil in nearly a decade.

May 22, 2021: Israel and Hamas agree to implement a ceasefire beginning at 2:00am local time on May 21. Egypt announces its intent to send a delegation for talks with Palestinians and put $500 million in efforts to rebuild Gaza after Israeli missile strikes.
Key U.S. national titles include:

- The New York Times (backfile from 1980 forward)*
- The Wall Street Journal (from 1984 forward)*
- The Washington Post (from 1987 forward)*
- Los Angeles Times (from 1985 forward)*
- Chicago Tribune (from 1985 forward)*
- The Boston Globe (from 1980 forward)*
- Newsday (from 1995 forward)*
- ProPublica
- Huffington Post
- CNN Newswires
- Politico
- 60 Minutes

*Includes print and online editions

Key international titles include:

- The Straits Times (backfile from 1995 forward)
- The Guardian (backfile from 1996 forward)
- Financial Times (backfile from 1996 forward)
- The Globe and Mail (backfile from 1977 forward)
- The Age (backfile from 1996 forward)
- El Mundo (backfile from 2008 forward)
- Toronto Star (backfile from 1985 forward)
- South China Morning Post (backfile from 1993 forward)
- Times of India (backfile from 2006 forward)
- Le Monde (backfile from 2001 forward)

Why Global Newsstream?

- Best resource for U.S. and international major news titles and resources: Global Newsstream offers superior access to current, full-text newspapers with longer backfile and/or more timely access to The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, Chicago Tribune, The Boston Globe, Newsday, and Los Angeles Times as well as over 80 Gannett regional and local titles. In addition, Global Newsstream content also includes newswires, news journals, television and radio transcripts, videos, blogs, podcasts, and digital-only websites. All content can be searched together or separately for maximum researcher efficiency. ProQuest offers flexible subscription options for many premier titles or Newsstream collections within Global Newsstream, as well.

- One of the most requested resources for research: In recent analyses of overall usage and retrievals, News content is the second-most retrieved type for researchers on the ProQuest platform. With Global Newsstream, researchers have access to thousands of full-text primary source news sources.

- Cross searchability enhances researcher output: Fully cross searchable with other essential ProQuest products including the ABI/INFORM Collection, Historical Newspapers, and all other databases an institution accesses via the ProQuest platform, ProQuest has digitized major titles from around the globe from the first issue forward, making them conveniently available through a Historical Newspapers subscription. When combined with Global Newsstream, these sources offer unrivalled coverage from earliest issues to current day.

- Maximizes researchers’ time: Global Newsstream pairs robust searching features with detailed indexing to help researchers quickly find the news information they need as well as track news events over time or at location of origin. The indexing covers complete bibliographic information including subjects, companies, people, products, and geographic areas so that users have access to not only top news stories but also detailed information on the arts, sports, business, and popular culture. And, workflow tools such as RSS/alerts, text-to-speech capability, cite, share, print, and export help make the research process flexible, thorough, and efficient. Many citation formats are available, and articles can be translated into 13 languages.

To learn more or contact us, visit