Get the Scoop on Local and State History

Thirty-Three State Collections Now Available from ProQuest Historical Newspapers

ProQuest Historical Newspapers: U.S. State Collections – Travel Digitally Through History

ProQuest Historical Newspapers: U.S. State Collections can be purchased in a variety of ways: regional collections, state collections, standalone titles or specialty collections. You’ll get access to over 120 image-based digitized newspapers, with coverage beginning as far back as 1785. Patrons can browse each edition as it was printed – including articles, photos, advertisements, obituaries, editorial cartoons and so much more. The State Collections are also cross-searchable with other ProQuest content.

72% of researchers use news - making newspapers a critical resource for libraries to offer.

- Understanding the Evolving Information Needs of Researchers, ProQuest, 2017

Explore small-town reactions to global events. Access centuries of birth, death and marriage records.

Dig into the local and state news that’s critical for research, history and genealogy – much of it never reported in the national and international dailies.

ProQuest Historical Newspapers: U.S. State Collections now includes thirty-three new State Collections,* each featuring some of the most important titles covering a specific state in the United States. Access these State Collections, many with titles going back over a hundred years, and give your users insight into everything from local government decisions to historic moments that may not have been reported anywhere else.

All historical titles in the U.S. State Collections will add coverage from 2009 up to current issues, made available within days of publication.

* ProQuest will continue to load titles into the State Collections until they are complete in early 2023.
