Get the Scoop on Local and State History
Thirty-Three State Collections Now Available from ProQuest Historical Newspapers

Explore small-town reactions to global events. Access centuries of birth, death and marriage records.

Dig into the local and state news that’s critical for research, history and genealogy – much of it never reported in the national and international dailies.

ProQuest Historical Newspapers: U.S. State Collections now includes thirty-three new State Collections, each featuring some of the most important titles covering a specific state in the United States. Access these State Collections, many with titles going back over a hundred years, and give your users insight into everything from local government decisions to historic moments that may not have been reported anywhere else.

*ProQuest will continue to load titles into the State Collections until they are complete in early 2023.

ProQuest Historical Newspapers: U.S. State Collections – Travel Digitally Through History
You’ll get access to over 120 image-based digitized newspapers, with coverage beginning as far back as 1785. Patrons can browse each edition as it was printed – including articles, photos, advertisements, obituaries, editorial cartoons and so much more. The State Collections are also cross-searchable with other ProQuest content.

72% of researchers use news – making newspapers a critical resource for libraries to offer.

Pennsylvania

The State Collection newspapers reveal a range of perspectives demonstrating the specific ways communities are impacted by national and global events, and cover local issues, people, events, and industries not found elsewhere. This Pennsylvania state newspaper collection includes The Morning Call, the Pittsburgh Press, the Philadelphia Daily News, the Hanover Evening Sun, and the Lebanon Daily News. Readers will find coverage on local industries, state politics and legislation, school board meetings, zoning board meetings, historical events like the 1936 flood, civil rights protests, and more.

Note: Newspaper titles, including the ones listed here, undergo name changes throughout the years.
